

Frasers Property Australia CEO Anthony Boyd joins GCBA Board

Focus on sharing knowledge, expertise and innovation

SYDNEY, 30 NOVEMBER 2022

Frasers Property Australia Chief Executive Officer Anthony Boyd has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Green Building Council of Australia (GBCA).

The GCBA and Frasers Property have a long history of working together, and Mr Boyd will lead that association into the future while facilitating the sharing of knowledge, expertise and innovation between industry and the GBCA to drive meaningful change.

“The GBCA’s impact on the Australian built environment has been profound. By providing connections and facilitating knowledge sharing, the GBCA ensures innovations and initiatives from members are amplified and shared across a range of businesses quickly and effectively,” Mr Boyd says.

“This elevates minimum standards and collectively lifts the whole industry, especially given the willingness among members to be open and transparent in sharing ideas and practical applications for the greater good.”

Mr Boyd is excited to get to work as part of a diverse Board with members from different areas of the industry, with direct and indirect engagement in building and operating real estate.

“The diversity within the GBCA Board, team and membership organisations provides the broad perspective necessary to make a meaningful contribution to a better, cleaner future,” Mr Boyd says.

“Looking ahead, the biggest challenge for the built environment is scalable change. This will ideally be driven through access to affordable technologies, products and construction methodologies which are crucial for raising the standards of future sustainable buildings. Greater access will also enable the elevation of existing buildings to those same standards.

“In collaboration with the whole GBCA family, I look forward to progressing the great work of the current and previous Directors so we can collectively raise the bar in sustainability in the built environment and enhance Australia’s position as a global leader in this space.”

In addition to his position on the GBCA Board of Directors, Mr Boyd also contributes to the Property Council of Australia’s Corporate Leaders Group and Champions of Change Coalition, and is a Board member of the Property Industry Foundation.

About Frasers Property Australia

Since 1924, Frasers Property Australia has created stronger, smarter, happier neighbourhoods. We are one of Australia’s leading diversified property groups and an Australian division of Frasers Property Limited.

We develop residential land, housing, and apartments and have delivered over 145,000 homes during our legacy; and develop build-to-rent, commercial, retail and mixed-use properties. Our activities also encompass the ownership and management of investment property, incorporating property and asset management services.

We work sustainably to ensure the places we create leave a positive environmental legacy and enhance the way people live life together. Frasers Property in Australia has certified over 7.2 million square metres of Green Star space across our communities, and our commitment to reduce carbon has been approved by the global Science-Based Targets initiative. We are also certified by the Australian Government’s Climate Active initiative. Frasers Property Australia owns Real Utilities, a licensed Australian energy retailer that owns and manages energy infrastructure within some of our communities with the mission to be greener, cheaper and simpler.

We value diversity and firmly believe that together, we're better. We employ over 500 people nationally and are recognised as an Employer of Choice for Gender Equality by the Australian Government's Workplace Gender Equality Agency.
